FOSTER'S WEATHER BULLETIN

Washington, July 22.—(Copyrighted, 1911, by W. T. Foster).—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent July 20 to 24, warm wave 19th to 21st, cool wave 22d to 26th. This was expected to be a moderate disturbance of no great importance. Last bulletin gave forecast of disturbance to cross continent July 25 to 27, warm wave 24th to 26th, cool wave 26th to 30th, also. This will be of more importance because it will inaugurate another hot wave and a period of drouth, each of which will cover two-thirds or more of the grain sections of the Northern states and Canada east of the Rockies. That disturbance will give some indication of what the August crop weather will do for corn in the Northern states and spring wheat in Canada.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about July 28, cross Pacific slope by close of 29th, great central valleys 30th to August 1, Eastern sections August 2. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about July 28th, great central valleys 30th, Eastern sections August 1. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about July 31, great central valleys August 2, Eastern sections 4th.

This disturbance will have much greater energy than usual and all should be on the lookout for severe storms. Many powerful planetary electro-magnetic forces will enter into the make up of this great storm period, among which will be sunspots on eastern limb of the sun that will form near August 2, and will add to the force of weather features in Eastern sections and on the Pacific slope.

These bulletins try to locate the various weather features that will cover the various sections of North America each day and readers should remember that these sudden planetary forces affect the weather features wherever found. If a warm wave is over your section August 2 I will expect the sunspot cause to make it warmer, but if it should be a cool wave that covers your sections this same sunspot cause will make it cooler. Indications are favorable to rains while this disturbance is passing.

August promises to be unusually hot except in Texas, Southern Florida and Cuba. About three-fourths of the Northern states and Canada will get much less rainfall than usual. The drouth will extend to all sections near the Atlantic and gulf coasts. North half of the cotton states will have good rains in August, except in South Atlantic states.

Indications are not favorable to corn and spring wheat for August. One peculiar feature is favorable to eastern slope of the Canadian spring wheat country. It holds moisture remarkably well. Less than usual rainfall there in May and June, but the early spring rains and melting snows saturated the soil and their spring wheat came through to the middle of July in remarkably good condition.

The most favorable dates for August rains will be near 2d, 8th, 15th and 24th. Most severe weather during the five days centering on August 2 and 14th. Highest temperatures near July 31, August 12, 22 and September 1. Lowest temperatures near August 4, 19, 25.

The Texas Farmer, Dallas, Texas, says: "The editor manages a farm and Foster's forecasts are his guide as to weather. His work as a forecaster is certainly invaluable. Prof. Foster is the greatest of long range weather forecasters."

My July forecasts are proving to be the most wonderfully correct ever made by anyone.

MIDDIES TO VISIT "GIB"

Bergen, Norway, July 22.—The six hundred American midshipmen from Annapolis Naval Academy who have been here for the last week had their last shore leave today, and gave the Norwegians an exhibition of the American national game of baseball. There has been some criticism of the "middles" here on the part of the Mother Grundys, and no little jealousy on the part of the young men whose fickle sweethearts have temporarily lost their hearts to the gallant and dashing embryo officers of Uncle Sam's navy. The press and public generally, however, praise the visitors as a fine, upstanding body of youngsters somewhat given to innocent merriment, but with every indication of being as ready for a fight as they have shown themselves willing to enjoy a frolic.

The battleships on which the "middles" are touring European waters, including the Massachusetts, Iowa and Indiana, have attracted much attention and people have come from all over Norway to inspect them. The squadron leaves tomorrow for Gibraltar, where they are due August 2, to sail for home six days later.

Auto Meet in Capital.

Washington, July 22.—At Benning race track this afternoon the auto racing fans of the national capital will be afforded an opportunity to see many of the most daring of the speed demons of the country. Five and ten-mile contests for the various American Automobile Association classifications will open the program. The feature event will be a fifty-mile race for two classes, from 231 to 450 and from 450 to 600 cubic inches piston displacement. The later race will test the stability as well as the speed of the contestants.

Dissolve Polar Expedition.

Augusta, Me., July 22.—A hearing was held today on a petition for the dissolution of the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald Polar Expedition Company, a corporation organized here several years ago to finance the expedition of Walter Wellman, who proposed to "dash" to the North Pole in a balloon. Several times Wellman and his party went to Spitzbergen, where the "dash" was to begin, with their balloon outfit, but each time something occurred to prevent a start. Later, Wellman made an unsuccessful attempt to "dash" across the Atlantic ocean in his dirigible balloon America, but this also failed.

Festival for Schoolma'ms.

London, July 22.—So large is the number of American schoolma'ms and schoolmasters who visit Great Britain each summer that the people of Stratford have determined to supply entertainment, especially for them by opening today a great summer festival, which will continue to August 19, and is expected to attract all the Yankee teachers now "doing" Europe. The program includes historical pageantry, Morris dancing, folk singing, games and a musical program by a specially trained choir of children.

When the Hen Crows.

Willsford in his "Nature Secrets" (1658) writes:

"Beasts eating greedily and more than they used to do prenotes foul weather, and all small cattle that seem to rejoice with playing and sporting themselves foreshews rain. Oxen and all kinds of neat, if you do at any time observe them to hold up their heads and snuffle in the air or lick their hooves or their bodies against the hair, expect then rainy weather. Asses or mules rubbing often their ears or braying much more than usually they are accustomed presages rain. Hogs crying and running up and down with hay or litter in their mouths foreshews a storm to be near at hand. The little sable beast (called a flea) if much thirsting after blood it argues rain. The cock if he crows in the daytime very much or at sunset or when he is at roost at unusual hours, as at 9 or 10, expect some change of weather and that suddenly, but from fair to foul or the contrary. But when the hen crows good men expect a storm within doors and without."

Lured Into Bathing.

In a railway carriage that the other day a London medical man told a good story which had come within his own experience. A mother was frequently bringing her child to him for treatment, but the doctor could discover nothing amiss except its need of a good wash. She was certain the infant was suffering from some terrible complaint and begged the doctor to do his best. He prescribed a daily wash with the water in which potatoes had been peeled. Never suspecting that this was merely a ruse to get the child washed, the mother followed the instructions to the letter. Rosy cheeks appeared, and a clean, healthy looking child gladdened the mother's heart. She sounded the doctor's praises everywhere and advised other mothers to test the efficacy of potato water. It never occurred to her that precisely the same result would have followed the daily application of soap and water.

A Spanish Ship Treasure.

In 1702 the largest bulk of treasure ever taken from a ship at sea was brought into London. It was the whole of the cargo of the Spanish ship Hermione, captured on May 21 by H. M. S. Active. The Hermione surrendered to the Active without an action, and the treasure was landed at Portsmouth and conveyed to London in twenty decorated wagons, with British colors over Spanish and an escort party of sailors. The strange procession reached London on Aug. 12, the day on which George IV. was born. On being sold the treasure realized £519,705 1s. 6d., and the share of the officers and men of the Active was as follows: The captain, £65,053 13s. 9d.; three commissioned officers, each £13,004 14s. 1d.; eight warrant officers, each £4,336 3s. 2d.; twenty petty officers, each £1,806 1s. 8d.; 158 seamen, each £485 5s. 3d.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Jury Penalties.

Nowadays no penalty is enforced when the twelve men chosen to form the jury are unable to agree upon a verdict. Formerly, however, a refractory jurymen was committed to prison and the verdict of the eleven was taken. In the reign of King Edward III. the judges decided that a verdict given by a majority was a nullity and recommended that the judges should carry the jury about with them in a cart till they should agree. The old custom that jurors should fast until they had agreed in their verdict prevailed long, but was mercifully relaxed somewhat in Tudor times, and during Queen Elizabeth's reign a banquet was usually given to the jury by the successful party to a suit.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Women and the Commune.

"The mad fury which seemed to have taken possession of the mob in Paris found its most enthusiastic exponents in the women, who were anxious to proceed to the extreme measures which the men deprecated," writes Lady St. Helier in her book "Memories of Fifty Years." "The organized corps de petroleuses were a savage crew, who had no feeling of pity or mercy in their hearts and would have sacrificed even those they loved most dearly to the cause which they had espoused. They co-operated actively with the commune, deluging that public buildings they could with petroleum and then setting light to them, and most of the fires that broke out in Paris on the entry of the troops originated through their action. They went down into the streets and fought at the barricades, showing superhuman courage, and when one of the great fights took place at the barricade in the Rue de la Paix, which was defended by the communists, the first person to mount it and to hoist the red flag of the revolution was a woman."

Notice Feeders

Crowley, La., Nov. 2nd, 1907.

P. L. Lawrence, President,

Crowley, La.

Dear Sir:—Having used "NUTRILINE FEED" exclusively for three years I am warranted in recommending it as the best and most economical feed I have ever used. Being STEAM COOKED and finely ground, it is superior to any feed, not excepting corn and oats, I have ever fed.

I have saved several hundred dollars by using Nutriline and therefore shall continue to use it. Yours truly,

L. V. JOHNSON (Livory)

We have exclusive sale of Nutriline and Momyk Dairy Feed and have six cars bought previous to the present high prices. It is therefore of interest to all feeders to look into the real merits of NUTRILINE.
